CHRISTMAS IS ALMOST upon us and we suppose we are as ready as we ever have been for the big day.

That really isn't saying much.

We belong to that unfortunate group of people who procrastinate terribly as far as Christmas is concerned.

We have known for the past 12 months that the day was going to arrive on schedule.

But, as usual, there always are a hundred or so last minute chores to wind up before we can relax and enjoy ourselves.

And, of course, we haven't started our Christmas shopping yet.

Shucks, there are two full shopping days left (if you count Christmas Eve day).

Fortunately, our Dorothy is in charge of most of the Christmas action at our house. Otherwise there might be some problems.

However, even those of us who belong to the put-off-Christmas-to-the-last-minute-school, somehow always manage to get the tree and lights in place a couple weeks before Christmas, which indicates that we are well aware of the season.

To our credit, however, we have never waited until Christmas Eve to put up our tree or the outside lights, but there are a number of other Christmas-oriented activities that we don't get done until the last minute.

Each year, of course, we vow that next year it will be different.

But it never is.

IT ALWAYS AMAZES US each Christmas to realize just how many Christmas trees it must take to satisfy the demands.

There are lots all over jammed with trees for sale.

There are tree farms where one can cut his own tree.

There are mountains where some people like the challenge of getting a "wild one" on their own.

There are artificial trees.

And then there are live Christmas trees, such as the project undertaken by the Campbell JayCees.

Called "Green Christmas", the JayCees, under the chairmanship of Walt Fontes, have asked residents to purchase live trees from specific nurseries at reduced prices and then after they have been used for home holiday decoration, donate the trees to Campbell's Rincon Park.

The JayCees arrange for the pickup and planting of the trees. Tree pickup days have been scheduled for Jan. 2 and Jan. 9.

It is too early to tell yet how many took advantage of this opportunity to make their home Christmas tree serve a dual purpose.

But we doubt that the JayCee project made much of a dent in the tree sales at the various lots.

It looked to us as if just as many people were milling around the trees as in previous years.

And there seemed to be just as many cars on the road weekends with trees hanging out the windows.

This Christmas tree business, however, is one activity, that comes to an abrupt halt at a pre-determined time.

There is nothing so forlorn or desolate in appearance as a Christmas tree lot on Christmas Eve.

Unless it is a salesman in the lot waiting for a straggler.

GETTING AND DECORATING a Christmas tree is generally a happy occasion in most households.

However, the whole bit can become a trifle complicated unintentionally, as Councilman Bill Podgorsek can testify.

This year, for example, the Podgorseks have two trees, one inside and one outside. They really hadn't planned it

CHRISTMAS

This year's Christmas message, following an annual tradition of The Press, is presented by the Rev. Leonard W. Bose, pastor of St. Lucy's Catholic Church.

This is the third Christmas that Father Bose has been in Campbell, coming here in November 1969, as successor to Father John M. Lally who had served as pastor of St. Lucy's for 10 years.

Father Bose, who is a native of San Francisco, is only the third pastor St. Lucy's has had since it became a full-fledged parish in 1947. The late Father Denis Kennelly, after whom the parish hall was named, was the first pastor and was succeeded by Father Lally.

Father Bose came to Campbell from Mountain View, where he established St. Athanasius parish and served as its pastor for 10 years. He has just been elected as a director of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

Christmas message

REV. LEONARD W. BOSE
ST. LUCY'S CATHOLIC CHURCH

Modern science has given us wonderful means of rapid communications. By telephone we can talk to each other almost anywhere in the world. Radio and television make it possible to hear and see events a fraction of a second after they happen.

Distance is virtually annihilated. The human race is tied together by electronic ribbons. Great as are these wonders of science, they remain cold and sterile.

Christmas gives them another meaning, gives them warmth and color. It was at Bethlehem that the greatest communication, which man has ever known, took place. God, who for thousands of years before had been communicating with His People through His Word, now communicates with them through His own Son. No longer is it merely His Word, it is now His very Self---in our own human form.

It was at the town of David's birth, that God established a new and lasting bond not only between Himself and His People on earth but also between all men. Never before had the entire world been so drawn together.

Christmas not only reminds us of this; it continues to bring all men of good will together not merely for one day but for their whole lives. It gives our modern means of communication a soul uniting man on the highest level and making him one family under God with His Son as their Brother.

The world is drawn together: its past, its present, even its future; the east, the west, the north, the south. And Bethlehem becomes and remains the real communication center of the world, for it has brought mankind together in a way in which it was never united before.

It is only when Bethlehem is forgotten or ignored that men isolate themselves from one another in meaningful communication. Men are one not simply because they happen to dwell on the same planet, nor even because they can communicate with each other through modern science.

They are one because the Child of Bethlehem has brought them together through His love, His justice, His peace which has never ceased to radiate from His lowly manger.

LEST WE FORGET

To some Christmas 1971 has a different meaning

Mrs. Jeanie Robinson, 34 year old mother of three who was burned in a fire at her home which took the lives of her children and husband, is making remarkable progress at Los Gatos Community Hospital, friends reported this week.

A fund for Mrs. Robinson, started by neighbors, has grown to over $1000, according to officials of the Wells Fargo Bank of Campbell. Four youngsters appeared at the bank this week with a container containing over $25 which they collected from their neighbors.

On the not-so-cheerful side, a youngster who suffered serious injury in a shell explosion last March, had his bike stolen from his yard last week.

The youngster, eight-year-old Jonathan (Jackie) Martin, son of Mrs. Joyce Marlowe, 1131 Virginia Ave., was given the bike by John Owens, father of the two boys who lost their lives in that same explosion.

According to Mrs. Marlowe, who does not drive, her three eldest children depend completely on two bikes for transportation to school, church and scouts and an older son, Jeff, and Jackie were saving to buy their sister, Jeri, a bike of her own.

Between the time that Jeff and Jeri left for school last Thursday and Jackie was to leave, Jackie's bike disappeared from their yard.

The bike was a boy's black five-speed Sting Ray with a purple seat and had been owned by Randy Owens, who with his brother, David, was killed by a souvenir shell near his home on Century Court.

Mrs. Marlowe is appealing to whoever took the bike to return it and "make Jackie's Christmas happy." The third grader faces additional surgery in the new year.

that way.

Bill made arrangements to get a live Christmas tree this year as part of the JayCee project.

The Podgorseks had fun selecting their tree, complete with the box in which it was "growing".

The idea was to place it in their living room, decorate it and then have the JayCees pick it up after the holidays for planting in Rincon Park..

They thought it was a great idea.

But there was a change in plans.

When the tree was delivered they found it was too tall to fit in the living room.

So it was placed on the front lawn.

That necessitated Bill having to get more lights and then figuring out how to hook 'em up.

Then the kids raised another question.

Where will the presents go?

Bill's suggestion to put them around the outside tree didn't go over too well.

So the Podgorsek's this year have two Christmas trees.

But Bill did learn one thing from all this.

That is, before one buys a tree to go in the living room, one should know the height limitation of the room.

Or problems may arise.

"CIVIC CENTER DRIVE" ---that is one of the names suggested for the street that is more commonly called "North Loop" and eventually will extend from Harrison to Third St.

A portion of "North Loop" (between Central and First) has been constructed as part of the civic center development.

That street, however, that goes by the city hall on the south side officially has no name.

City officials feel that something should be done about that.

"Civic Center Drive" was submitted only as one possibility. The hope was expressed that there would be other suggestions offered that might be even more apropos.

It also should be kept in mind that, in addition to the north loop, eventually there also could be a south loop off Campbell Ave.

The plan-line, of course, has been adopted for the north loop but has not been set for the south loop.

However, we note that the Planning Commission is considering holding the south loop plan-line hearing early in the new year.

The loop system has been talked about for years.

In fact 10 years before the plan-line for the north loop was actually established in 1969, the idea of the loop has been suggested in one of the first of the many professional studies made on how to improve the traffic conditions on Campbell Ave.

Whether the Planning Commission will approve any plan line for the so-called "south loop" is a matter for conjecture.

But the north loop plan-line is a matter of record and a portion of it by the city hall is already completed.

We agree it should have a name. And there must be a lot of ideas.

But, obviously, some of the names that the loop system was called by its die-hard opponents during the hearings wouldn't be appropriate for a street sign.

We are pretty sure city officials wouldn't go, for example, for "Deplorable Drive."

Or for some other appellations even more descriptive of the expressed feelings of the loud opponents, but less printable.

Seriously, however, have you any ideas?

THERE HAS BEEN A LITTLE good-natured kidding with respect to the recent Chamber of Commerce annual election of directors.

Some suggested that, in a way, it followed the Vietnam election style, inasmuch as there were only eight nominees for the eight vacancies that existed on the board.

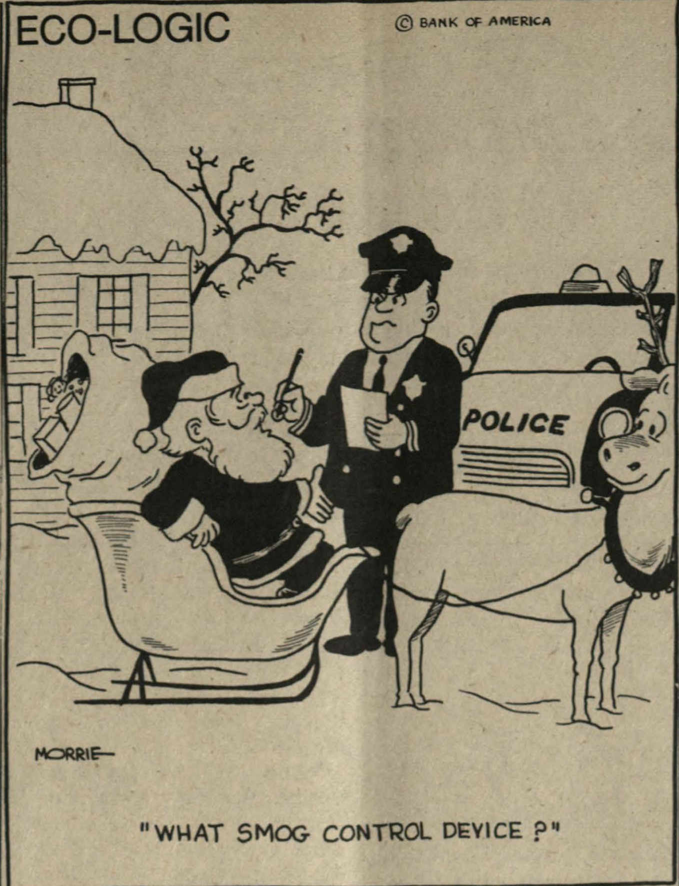
That, of course, was not fair and the guys who were doing the kidding knew it.

In previous CofC elections, there have been times when well-qualified individuals who had been nominated were not elected because they were not as well known as others on the list.

It was felt that it was more important to have the best people serve as CofC directors than to conduct a popularity contest via the ballots, with the CofC coming out the loser.

And really it is not as undemocratic as it may sound.

Try making a list sometime of potential CofC directors of people willing to serve?



"WHAT SMOG CONTROL DEVICE ?"

Council may put treasurer question on April ballot

Voters in the City of Campbell may have the opportunity to decide at the municipal election next April whether the office of city treasurer should be elective or appointive.

That will be one of the recommendations that the city's finance committee will make to the City Council next Monday, Dec. 27. The committee is composed of Councilman Bill Smeed (chairman), Mayor Ralph Doetsch, City Manager Bob Stephens, City Treasurer Velma Olds, City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan and Finance Director Jeff Whitaker.

In recent years, the finance director's duties and responsibilities have increased and the function of the city treasurer has become less important in fiscal matters of the city. The finance director would assume the duties of treasurer.

Should the voters in April approve the change, the office of city treasurer would go out of existence in 1974 when the current term of Mrs. Olds will terminate.

Other recommendations of the finance committee include the retention of Peat, Marwick and Mitchell as auditors and a change in the policy that specifies the banks that can be used as depositories for municipal funds.

Under the proposed change all banks located within the city limits would be eligible, as well as those successful in bidding for city bonds. The present policy lists the banks by name.

The committee has also recommended that a surety bond of $50,000 be secured for the finance director and that negotiations be undertaken for the purchase of additional furniture for the city hall. Funds totalling $9,320 have been allocated for the purchase.

The Council is expected to defer the public hearing on the site plan of the Amato property until Jan. 10, 1972. The hearing was originally scheduled for Dec. 27, following the approval by the Planning Commission on Dec. 6 of the request of Dura Style Homes for a zone change.

Dura Style Homes is requesting a zone change on the 31-acre parcel to allow for a development that would include 47 "detached" or single-family homes and 186 "attached" or multiples.

Residents in the adjacent areas who have protested the zone change last week through their spokesman, Bob Sneed, of 241 Victor, requested that hearing be postponed because of the holiday season.

City Attorney Bob Dempster ruled that the Council could not take action to continue the hearing until the night it was scheduled.

That it will be postponed, however, became a pretty sure thing this week when Mike Engdol, president of Dura Style Homes, by letter also requested the hearing be postponed until Jan. 10.

Other matters on the Council's agenda next Monday, the last meeting for 1971, include an appeal by G. C. Morgan of a Planning Commission denial of a request for an extension of time in the construction of a 178-unit apartment complex on Budd Ave. at the expressway.

The Commission had granted prior extensions.

The Council is also expected to consider contracting for a preventive maintenance contract for the heating and cooling system at the city hall. Because of the city's investment in the expensive equipment, City Manager Bob Stephens is recommending the contract with a specialty firm that services other cities in the area.

Bill Wren, public works director, is expected to outline the unique procedure whereby the City of Gilroy will exchange with the City of Campbell, TOPICS money (used for intersections and railroad crossings) for a similar amount in gas tax funds.

Planning Commission okays 10-story PruneYard office

Plans for a 10-story office building in the PruneYard to be located in front of the 18-story "Towers" won unanimous approval of the Planning Commission on Monday night.

Plans for the 140-foot high glass and aluminum structure were submitted by Fred Sahadi, developer of the PruneYard-Towers with Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel.

The proposed office building will have a gross floor area of 123,000 square feet. According to the plans, a total of 830 parking spaces will be available for the 10-story and 18-story office buildings and for two future 6000 square feet buildings that will be located in the area.

A survey of the parking conditions was presented by Sahadi which showed that 77,840 square feet of "The Towers" are occupied and there are 415 employees in the structure. According to the report, floors 9, 12, 17 and 18 are presently unoccupied.

Sahadi indicated that it is planned to start construction by March 1, 1972. The plans and zone change request will go before the City Council on Jan. 10.

Approved in conjunction with the plans was the zone change request from C-2-S to C-2-O (overlay) which will permit the construction of the 140-foot high building. The present zoning has a height maximum of 75-feet.

The Commission also unanimously (by a 6-0 vote, Commissioner Myron Alexander was absent) rejected the application of J. P. Clark and Fred ReHorn for a use permit to allow a youth entertainment center to be located in an industrial building at 1065 Florence Way.

Playing a large part in the Commission's action was the recommendation of the Youth Commission that the permit be denied. In addition a number of protests were received from property owners and lessees in the area.

The Commission in denying the permit submitted also that the use was not compatible with the area and that parking could be a problem.

Denied also was the request of Robert Hale on behalf of Robinson Oil Co. for a 25-foot high free-standing sign to be located at the newly repainted service station at Union and Campbell Ave.

The Commission upheld the decision of Art Kee, planning director, who had maintained that the proposed pole sign was both too high and too large.

Denied without prejudice was the zone change request of Vallcraft, Inc. for property located at 1600 Winchester Blvd. (at Hamilton). The property is now occupied by a closed-down gas station. The applicant wants to convert it into a boat sales operation. The Commission directed the staff to study what other uses could be allowed on the property, if the zone change was approved.

By a 5-1 vote (Norm Paul dissenting), the Commission approved the application of Keith Wiggins for a use permit to allow a recreational vehicle park to be located on the west side of Los Gatos Creek with access at 870 Camden Ave.

The Parks and Recreation Commission had given prior approval to the request.

Approved also were plans for a 71-unit apartment complex at 153 and 159 Union Ave., submitted by James R. Barrow and also plans for a single-story office building for California Savings at 1990 S. Bascom (at Campbell Ave.) across from the PruneYard.

In October, the Planning Commission had approved the same building for property just north of the site. Since that time, California Savings has acquired the corner lot.

The application of R. W. Hendrickson for approval of addition of two units to an existing duplex located at 93 Sunnyside Ave., was continued until Jan. 17, 1972.

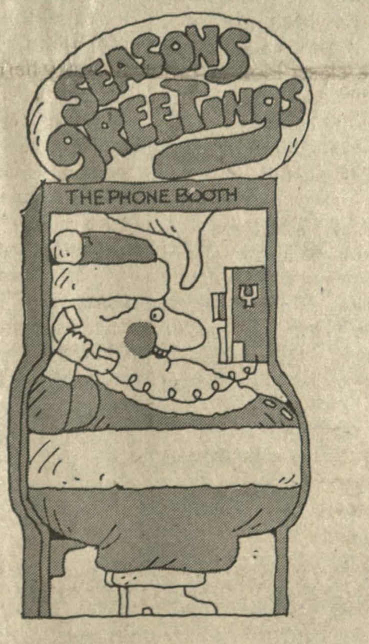
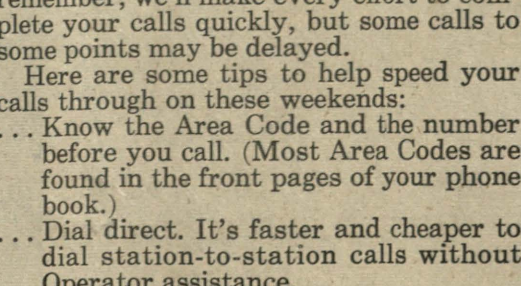
THE PHONE BOOTH



Jim Bower and the staff at your local telephone office wish you and your family the very best this holiday season. It's been our privilege to serve you during 1971. Our New Year's resolution this year is to continue improving your telephone service during 1972 and each succeeding year.

Again, our best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a prosperous, rewarding New Year.



During the Christmas and New Year's weekends we expect a record number of people to send their greetings by long distance phone calls. If you're one of them, remember, we'll make every effort to complete your calls quickly, but some calls to some points may be delayed.

Here are some tips to help speed your calls through on these weekends:

... Know the Area Code and the number before you call. (Most Area Codes are found in the front pages of your phone book.)
... Dial direct. It's faster and cheaper to dial station-to-station calls without Operator assistance.
... Your call has the best chance of getting through during the lighter calling periods—usually the afternoon or late at night.
... If you get a busy signal, please hang up and try again in a few minutes.

Religious songs were vetoed after a petition circulated among members of the community was turned over to the administration, requesting that religious songs and decorations be banned from public schools. How sad that tradition cannot be allowed to stand as is.

REVIEW INSPECTION

The Military Science classes had a special review inspection on Thursday, Dec. 16. Students were bussed to Campbell High School, and were inspected by Dr. Montesano, Superintendent of the C.U.H.S.D. Three marching platoons, the drill team, and the color guard were inspected then marched past the reviewing stand. The purpose of the inspection by Dr. Montesano was to see if the boys in the Military Science programs are learning anything and whether or not the program is doing them any good.

A for your thoughts

by Edith Bonnet

CHRISTMAS PAST:

....nostalgia, a time to remember old friends and renew old acquaintances....a time of reflection, on the year's blessings, on family traditions, Christmas tree ornaments from our childhood shining back in our own "little ones" eyes.

CHRISTMAS PRESENT:

....a time when people are as friendly as they should be all year long, a time of giving and receiving, the end of one year and the beginning of a new one....a time to set goals and take a closer look at our personal behavior and value systems. And most of all, a time to recreate the birth of Christ and of Love in our own hearts....

CHRISTMAS FUTURE:

....a time to think about how we can make the world a little brighter, if only in our own little corner....from a friend named Jamie, comes a simple message she shared with me....

LOVE

Love is like a silky dove
with heaven in its heart.
Love is more than anything
Love is alot.

As Joan says in "Daybreak" ...."You--special, miraculous, unrepeatable, fragile, fearful, tender, lost, sparkling ruby emerald jewel, rainbow splendor person. It's up to you!

From another friend comes this thought, one to hold onto all year through. "Gifts from under the tree can make life happier, but the gifts of love mean so much more. All it takes is thoughtfulness; and the courage to communicate that love.

Take the time to call an old friend. Let a child finish his story before you interrupt. Listen to someone's opinion and consider it.

No one is lost if just one person believes in him. If you admire another, tell him so. Give a gift of understanding all year through. The warmth of an honestly concerned heart can light a thousand candles....isn't THAT what CHRISTMAS is all about?

And so from our family to your family, may you have a joyous holiday season and may the new year be the beginning of true PEACE ON EARTH.

Season's Greetings

MAY YOU RECEIVE A BOUNTIFUL
SHARE OF THE BLESSINGS OF CHRISTMAS.

DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

Some position jumping and tightening of point standings is the word as the Northern California Darts Assn. takes a two-week hiatus over the holidays. The "B" division of the El Camino League saw the most change as the Banbury Clock II jumped into first place and a two game lead over the "Goof-Offs" of Lancashire Lad III.

The Clock won Wednesday night's game with Black Watch II, 10-2. This caused the Watch to drop from third to fourth in the standings. The Club Gato also had a 10-2 win over the all-girls Lancashire Lad IV. The Gato took over the third place slot.

Another 10-2 game saw Andy Capp's go down in defeat at the hands of Lancashire Lad I. With the Black Knight polishing off Black Watch I, 7-5, the Knight's took a solid second place in the "A" division having been tied with the Capp's the previous week.

The number one team in the "A" division, Prince of Wales I lengthened their lead to four games by defeating Scarlet La Rue's II, 9-3.

SOUTH BAY LEAGUE

Lancashire Lad I picked up three games on the first place Scarlet La Rue's I with their inter-league win. The La Rue's beat Harold's of Redwood, 7-5, while the "Banshees" of Primrose Lanes I wiped out Banbury Clock I, 8-4.

In the "B" division the "Reruns" of Gaslighter Theater II slipped one more game behind the leaders, Primrose Lanes II. The Rose took their match with the Prince of Wales II, 8-4. The "Reruns" won 7-5 over Lancashire Lad II.

TURKEY SHOOTS

There have already been several turkey shoots but several more are scheduled for tonight. In San Francisco, the Lord Nelson will have a go, while across the bay the shoot is at the Loft in Oakland. Coming this way on the East side of the Bay the shoot is at the Halfway Club in San Leandro.

The shoot tonight in our league is at the Prince of Wales, 106 E. 25th Ave., in San Mateo. A dollar entry fee puts your name in the hat and doubles teams will be drawn the same way they were two weeks ago at the Gaslighter Theater. An "A" division player will be coupled with a "B" division player.

The players get duplicate prizes with first place getting a large turkey each. Second gets a smaller turkey, third receives a case of beer and fourth takes home a bottle of champagne.

With all these turkey shoots, several of our darters should have an added pleasure this holiday season. May your holiday season also be a winner.

TOPSY TURVY TREE---This upside down Christmas tree, that looks like it grew and grew and grew...right out of the ceiling, bedecks the interior of Trend Hair Fashions, 1768 Winchester Blvd. While brightening the beauty salon with its red skirt, fragrant branches and shiny balls, the tree doesn't rob the operators of one inch of floor space.

SENIORS SWUNG SOUTH---Irma Reese, director of the West Valley Progressive Senior Center, stands next to the bus of 41 senior citizens that wheeled towards Monterey early Saturday morning, Dec. 11. According to one of the travelers the Santa Cruz mountains "were at their prettiest, bathed in morning sunshine..." For many of the elderly citizens, the drive through rolling hills, acres of artichokes, and the battered and silent canneries of the Monterey waterfront was a rare journey outside the four walls of their homes. Among those who made the trip possible are Mayor Ralph Doetsch, Dr. Nicholas Montesano, Dean Chamberlin, John Ruppel and Irma Reese.

Dental checkups prevent cancer

About 14,000 persons develop cancer of the mouth each year. Modern medical treatments could almost eliminate the disease, yet it still causes nearly 7,000 deaths per annum.

Mouth cancers are easy to spot, but are often undiscovered until the advanced stages of the ailment, since the symptoms seem like minor irritations.

Some mouth cancer warning signals are:

1. A sore that does not heal.
2. A white, spotted area.
3. An irregular, warty section.
4. A lump or swelling of cheek, gums or tongue.
5. Oral bleeding without apparent cause.

Cancer never cures itself! If detected early, growth of cancerous tissue can be controlled or halted using radiation and surgery.

Escessive smoking, heavy drinking, ill-fitting dentures, jagged teeth, dietary deficiencies and poor dental hygiene can irritate tissue and provoke cancerous growth in the mouth.

The best prevention of oral cancer is an awareness of the danger signals, good dental hygiene, and frequent dental checkups.

Nursery School children visit Christmas farm

Cutting down a Christmas tree used to be an old family tradition. And that tradition is slowly being revived.

Children enrolled in West Valley College's Nursery School had a taste of tradition when they visited the Raccoon Gulch Christmas Tree Farm in Los Gatos to cut down a Christmas tree for their room.

This Christmas tree outing was only one of many events the children participate in each semester. The nursery school is operated by the family life science department in conjunction with early childhood programs.

Children in the district are eligible to attend the nursery school if they are in good health and if one of their parents is enrolled in an early childhood program.

The nursery school operates from 9 to 11:30 a.m. each week day, with children attending on Monday, Wednesday, Friday or Tuesday, Thursday according to their age.

The college offers an A.A. degree upon completion of a two-year Nursery School assistant program. In addition to the degree there are several other programs currently being offered: the work experience program as fulfillment of the nursery school assistant program and the nursery school assistant certificate, given after completion of 24 units in nursery school work.

Some of the courses to be offered this spring include: child growth and development, creative activities for children, the child, family and community, advanced nursery school practice and supervision and administration of the nursery school.

Applications, transcripts and test scores must be completed and returned to West Valley by Jan. 7.

Residents interested in the nursery school program should contact Mrs. Evelyn Weisberg at 867-2200. Information on other family life science programs may be obtained by contacting Miss Beverly Ledwith at the same number.

FIRE TRUCK REPLACES RUDOLPH! --- Jack Christian looks on as Captain Martin and Rick Kincaid hoist Santa aboard the Campbell Fire Truck for a timely visit to eager neighborhood children. Rudolph Reindeer might be a bit jealous of the Campbell Fire Department personnel as they voluntarily gave of their time to give Santa a "lift" around Campbell. Proceeds from Santa's visits to local children go to the Children's Home Society. The annual benefit was sponsored by the Leprechaun Chapter of the non-profit adoption agency.

Airman and pup take a break

Wearing a "California" hat, Airman First Class Gary Garay rests against a fence in Taegu, Korea while reading a letter from his wife, Linda, who lives at 1610 Fallbrook Ave. with Mr. and Mrs. Moses Garay, parents of the 1970 Prospect graduate.

The young pup snuggling in the fur of Gary's parka is "New-Cal", named jointly for a friend from New York, and of course, all the friends in California!

When Garay met the New Yorker in Korea, the Californian discovered that his buddy also attended Prospect High for a short time!

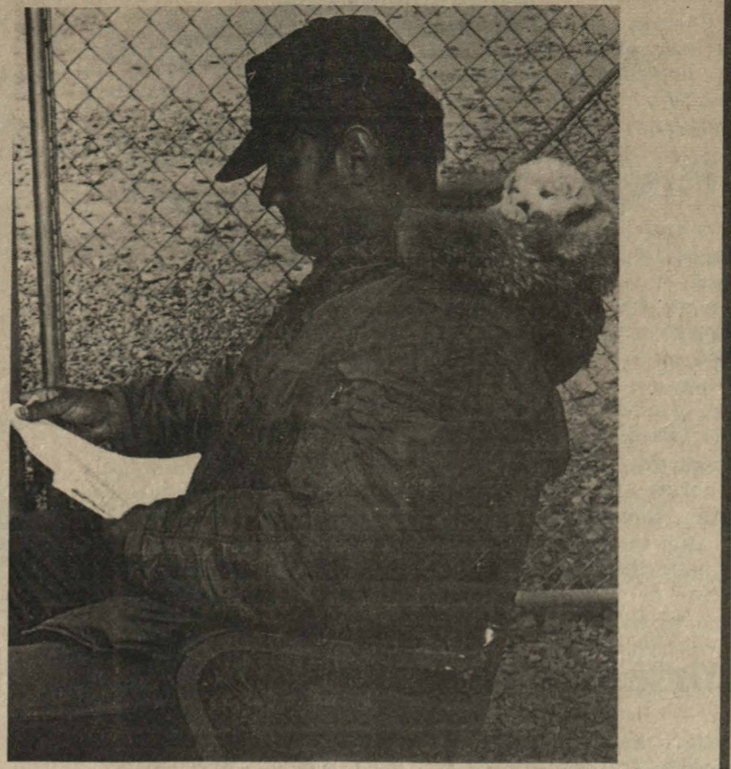
Mrs. Garay said Gary, who is "popular and very well-known in the community", played football at Campbell High for two years, then went on to join the Prospect High team as a varsity linebacker, when that school opened.

Garay was also involved in soccer, and played clarinet in his high school band.

The young airman, who wants to be a probation officer, is serving in a special police force at the U.S. Air Force Base in Taegu.

He was stationed at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas before leaving for Korea this August. This will be the first Christmas away from home for Garay, who must serve a 13 month tour of duty.

Fifteen year old Ricky Garay, who is "very proud of his brother" waits at home for his return, along with Gary's wife, Linda, his parents, and his friends.



Candy Stripers form chapter

The Candy Stripers are taking off on their own!

The 190 teenagers who volunteer their help at the Good Samaritan Hospital, are in the process of drawing up their own by-laws and nominating officers.

Before this, the Junior Auxilians have worked with an adult advisor from the Good Samaritan Auxiliary Board.

At their first business session the girls initiated a new project—they made over 130 yarn dolls for young children treated in the Emergency Room.

The Candy Striper's meeting is one result of the organization of a Junior Auxiliary group by the Central Coast Counties Auxiliaries. Secretary of the latter group is Heather Morse, of the Good Samaritan Junior Auxiliary.

Ballet is televised

Excerpts from Paul F. Page's two act ballet, "Amusement Park" will be televised on channel 4, KRON TV on Sunday, Dec. 26 between 8 and 9 a.m. The televised portions of the local composer's dance will appear in a program called "Git Box Tickle."

Page, the musical director and organist of St. Lucy's Church, is known for his many religious compositions which are heard in parishes throughout the Bay Area.

"Amusement Park," has performed four times during the first week of December for capacity audiences at the Dominican College in San Rafael.

The two act ballet, choreographed by Joan Gabert, was performed by the Joan Edgerton Gabert School of Classic Ballet, of San Rafael.

A1 PARENTS

The constant attention and solicitude of adult prairie dogs towards the younger members of their groups help to account for the extremely low mortality rate among the young animals.

4-H CLUB MEMBERS

CAMPBELL 4-H

by Bret Bauer

On Dec. 3, Campbell 4-H had their third meeting of the year. It was a very nicely run meeting by Caprice Tantillo.

There was a Christmas Party at Coventry School, Dec. 17, at which time the Christmas Tree and Christmas Basket were finished.

There was caroling by all the 4-H at Convalescent Hospitals before the party.

The Blind Center put a letter in the newspaper to thank our 4-H Club for the 54 dozen cookies we donated.

The Junior Leaders put on a darling Christmas skit. Santa Claus was Dave Cassingham, the elf was Deana Tantillo, the little children were Nora Smith, Lynn Smith, Caprice Tantillo, Suann Mariani, Kathleen Clancey, Nancy Chivers, Cindy Peterson and Carolyn Scriano. It was the cutest Christmas skit ever.

On Dec. 11 there was a Rabbit Field Day for Santa Clara County and they showed different breeds of rabbits, slides on several rabbitries and also talked about the 4-H Rabbit Show coming up on Jan. 29, 1972. This Rabbit Show will be open to all youth with rabbits.

The entry fee is 25-cents per rabbit per section. All entries must be in by Jan. 19, 1972. Entry forms and information can be obtained from Elizabeth Salisbury, 1008 Connie Dr., Campbell, 378-0637. The awards will be trophies, rosettes and ribbons. Hope to see you all there.

Authoress is on college calendar

British-born author Jessica Mitford will begin the new year at West Valley College (Thursday) Jan. 13 when she speaks on "Cruel and Unusual Punishment."

Tickets for her 8 p.m. lecturer in the Campbell campus auditorium, corner of Winchester Blvd. and Campbell Ave., may be obtained through the college's Office of Community Services, 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26, telephone 379-1733, ext. 58.

Born to an ultra-conservative British family, Miss Mitford has done much in her life to depart from this philosophy.

To date she has written three books, in addition to numerous articles and reviews in magazines.

Miss Mitford never went to school, as her mother did not believe in school for girls. Instead, her mother taught her to read and required her to be able to read the leading editorial in the Times by the time she was six.

In the late 1940's and early '50's she served as executive secretary of the Civil Rights Congress in the San Francisco area. This organization was a forerunner of SNCC, CORE etc.

She has campaigned for fair employment, against police brutality and for freedom of political dissent.

New Books BOOKS at Campbell Library

GRAFFITI; TWO THOUSAND YEARS OF WALL WRITING, by Robert Reisner. (001.55)

Writing on walls is as old as humanity, as this collection well illustrates. From the walls of Pompeii ("Romular tarried here with Staphylus") to the construction fences of today ("I fight poverty: I work"), man has found a bare wall irresistible, and has used it to record his hopes, hang-ups, angers, and obsessions in our only authentic written folklore.

I WAS NEVER THE PRINCESS, by Jeannie Sakol

"A pretty face isn't everything," they said, "A man will love you for what you are!", they said. "This is a visual age–and I am not visual", Jane tells the plastic surgeon, begging him for the new face that will bring her happiness. Does the beautiful new face bring Plain Jane happiness? Is beauty power, and does it corrupt? The setting is New York.

FLY AWAY HOME, by Gillian Tindall

Antonia, the product of a fragmented childhood, has made an early marriage to a Frenchman, partly to get away from her slightly mad, Bohemian mother, and partly to escape her background, to be different. Years later she realizes her hasty dive into marriage had into marriage has, in fact, stunted her growth. Antonia starts a journal to explore these new emotions and examine the alternative roads she could have taken ten years earlier. She confronts the human problems of the search for identity, the repudiation of the past, and the need to create new roads.

LIFE BEYOND DEATH, by Arthur Ford, 133.9

Arthur Ford's work in verifying the survival of human personality beyond biological death constitutes the most impressive body of evidence we have yet had to support this belief. This book was completed just before the author died. He has since communicated with the living through the agency of another medium. Drawing upon his own vast experience and the work of other investigators he describes exactly what we can expect to find on the other side.

ELVIS, by Jerry Hopkins, 784.0924

Elvis, the biggest single entertainment personality America has ever produced, whose first name alone has won more recognition than any other full name in the world. Elvis, whose first appearance on the Ed Sullivan Show was seen on the home screen from the waist up only. He combined the sounds of white country-music with black blues to form "rockabilly." Elvis Presley is the subject of this timely biography.

BETTER HOMES AND GARDENS MAKE-AHEAD COOK BOOK, 641.5.

Another good cookbook giving recipes to make now and serve later. It tells how to store food for later use so you can have complete menus on the table in half the time. A goodie for the working wife!

BREAKING THROUGH, SELLING OUT, DROPPING DEAD AND OTHER NOTES ON FILM MAKING, by William Bayer, 791.4302

This provocative, blunt, and enlightening book looks at the world of film without myths, make-up or rose-colored glasses. This book is a primer for hopeful film makers–and much more. For anyone concerned with the present and future state of America's film industry, it provides an entertaining, informative and frequently appalling look at the people and processes that determine how a film is made, who gets to see it, and whether it's worth seeing at all.

BACK TO THE WALL, by Leonard Mosley, 940.5342

"London can take it," said the slogans on the gutted tenements of the East End. Take it she did, for five cruel years of onslaught which all but shattered her magnificent spirit. This is the story of how London lived during World War II, and of the agonies, privations, pungent humor and bravery of her citizens–ordinary people leading extraordinary lives in the most dangerous city on earth.

ACAPULCO, by Burt Hirschfeld

Acapulco is the famous seaside resort in Mexico where the expatriate rich and the indigenous poor, the socially elite and the parvenue, the rebel visionary and the American entrepreneur mix. This book has the magical narrative pull of the Carpetbaggers.

NOTES: We have two new books on string craft. The first one is published by Sunset and is entitled Macrame, creative knot-tying. 746.4. It is another excellent Sunset book. The other book is by Mary Seyd and is called Designing with String. It was published in Great Britian, but the type of designs and crafts are also popular here. 745.59.

FICTION:

THE FIRST TEAM, by John Ball

Sometime in the not too distant future: A Russian named Zalinsky is sitting in the President's chair in the Oval Room of the White House, hundreds of troops and foreign personnel are arriving day by day, seizing control of all aspects of power. Without warning, and with scarcely a shot, the United States of America has been conquered by the Soviet Union. Its only hope is a secret organization bearing the code name Thomas Jefferson, better known as the First Team.

THE PROFESSOR'S DAUGHTER, by Piers Paul Read

Piers Paul Read writes about the relationship between father and daughter, reflecting with rare insight on the dilemmas of two generations; an older generation content with its beliefs, a younger, questioning generation anxious to translate beliefs into action–sometimes violence. The story of a few dramatic, destructive months in the lives of the comfortable and successful Rutledges raises some disturbing questions about the affections of contemporary society.

BLOWOUT AT PLATFORM A., by Lee Dye (622.3382)

This deals with the basics of American life; food, clothing, shelter, work, play and love. The foibles and follies we perpetuate are examined, often with humorous results.

INSIDE: PRISON AMERICAN STYLE, by Robert J. Minton (365.9794)

A powerful collection of writings by inmates of the California prison system. The works include prose, poetry and essays. These present a realistic picture of what it is like to be "in the joint."

A comic novel dealing with 48 year old dropout and erstwhile philosopher Wendell Pocock. Mix in a few secret agents, the Prime Minister and some incongruous circumstances and you have the result: an enjoyable tale.

Ladders can be dangerous at Yule decoration time

The Christmas-New Year holiday period is one that inspires many people to climb up and down ladders.

The inventory of places a homeowner aspires to reach during this time when decorating the house becomes a matter of pride includes Christmas tree tops, roofs, chimneys, the upper branches of yard trees and, on occasion, the top of a very large snow man.

Ladders are the best and safest way to reach these heights when installing decorations, but if not used properly they can be as dangerous as trying to climb up a pyramid of six swivel chairs.

Falls, reports the National Safety Council, are the leading cause of home accident deaths each year. In 1970, for example, a total of 9,600 persons were fatally injured as a result of falls in the home.

A prime culprit in many of these accidents was an improperly used ladder.

The Safety Council suggests the following precautions when using ladders:

--An individual using an extension ladder to reach an extreme height such as the roof of a house should employ good body form. This consists of keeping the body erect and the arms straight but not tense. When a man holds himself rigid and hugs the ladder, he is in danger of falling because he does not have control of his body.

--To keep the ladder steady, the climber should climb near the center of the rungs, simultaneously using the same hand and foot when climbing.

--The climber should not look down or watch his feet, but should look slightly upward toward the next rung.

--His hands should be moved on the rungs at a level between his waist and his head, and the rungs should be grasped with the palms down and the thumbs around the rungs. This will help avoid body sway and provide a means of checking for possible defective rungs.

--The ball of the foot rather than the arch should be placed on the rungs when climbing.

--Prior to climbing, the ladder should be placed with the base set out ¼ the ladder length, and it should be set evenly and firmly.

--When using a stepladder, it should be fully opened with the spreaders straight.

--It should be set on even footing.

--The climber should never stand on the top step.

Fall recipes

Anjou, Bosc and Comice aren't picturesque towns lifted from an exotic travel brochure, rather they are the three major varieties of winter pears.

Anjou pears are juicy with a creamy yellowish-green color while Bosc pears are sweet, smooth and buttery with a golden-to-russet skin. Comice are large pears with a crimson blush.

For a candlelight dessert, pair two pears of any of the three major varieties with pecans, whipped cream and brandy.

BRANDIED PEARS

Two fresh pears (Anjou, Bosc or Comice), cored and
Two tablespoons butter
Three tablespoons sugar
Three tablespoons pecan halves
One-half cup whipped cream
One tablespoon apricot brandy
12 to 16 pecan halves for garnish

Melt butter in chafing dish and saute pear slices until tender (three to five minutes). Stir gently to glaze. To whipped cream, add apricot brandy. Serve over warm pears in compote dishes. Garnish with pecan halves.

Note: It takes about three tablespoons unwhipped cream to make one-half cup. Remember, whipping cream freezes, whipped or unwhipped.

College trains model builders

West Valley College is now offering the only complete college model building program in the nation.

Model building is the art of translating architectural plans into reality—in miniature—using the same materials that will be used in the actual structure.

There are currently 58 students enrolled in the two-year program which West Valley started last year.

Nils Neklason, instructor, who has been a model builder for the past 18 years, explained that math and drafting are the only requirements for enrolling in the program.

Graduates will have little trouble finding jobs, since the field of model building is diverse.

There are more than 200 model builders in the Bay area today working in such areas as engineering, architecture and industrial design.

Anyone interested in enrolling in the program should contact Neklason at the Saratoga campus of West Valley, 14000 Fruitvale Ave., Saratoga, 95070.

Rotarians help Mexican school

On Thursday, Dec. 2, Campbell Rotarians Cliff Cassiday and Al Smith joined forces with Rotarians from Saratoga and Piedmont.

With a helping hand from Saratoga High School Interact Club members, the Rotarians drove three truck loads of furniture and fixtures to the brand new high school at Los Algodones, Mexico. With their help the new school, a project of the one-year old Rotary Club in Los Algodones, Mexico, was ready to open as scheduled on Monday, Dec. 6.

It is the first school of its kind in Algodones, a tiny border community, close to Yuma, Arizona.

The small contingent of Rotarians arrived in time to join the local Rotarians in their weekly meeting Thursday night. Friday the local contingent set up the furnishings and Saturday, the group was treated to an all-day celebration and unofficial ceremonial dedication.

The Rotary Club of Saratoga spearheaded a drive involving collecting the items needed to furnish the small four-classroom high school.

Campbell Rotary Club helped with trucks, drivers and the purchase of chairs formerly used in the old Campbell City Hall.

ANTONIO O. CACIOPPO

Antonio O. Cacioppo, 78, a retired barber who had cut the hair of statesmen and poets, died recently after a long illness.

He had resided at 905 Apricot Ave., Campbell.

Cacioppo retired in 1957, selling his hair styling complex in the Dartmouth College community of Hanover, N. H. The following year he moved to Campbell.

Born in Santa Catherina, Sicily, a village near Polarmo, he came to the United States when he was 14 years old, settling with his family in Chelsea, Mass. Five years later he moved for health reasons to Hanover, a small New England town next to the Vermont border in the Connecticut River Valley, where he established a barber shop. Subsequently, he opened a beauty and women's hair styling salon, the first in the area.

Among his regular customers were New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller, Rene Dupont, Walter Chrysler, Jr. and Theodor Seuss Geisel (Dr. Seuss, the childrens' book illustrator) during their student years. Poet Robert Frost, Mexican artist Jose Clemente Orozco and Nobel Laureate Dr. George Wald were customers when they were associated with the college as guests or faculty members.

Cacioppo developed lasting friendships with his customers which he was fond of recalling during retirement, most particularly that with Gov. Rockefeller. Inscribed portraits from the Republican governor —the most recent signed "from your old friend" and dated "Christmas, 1970"— hang in his Campbell home.

His friendship with Gov. Rockefeller began when Mr. Caccioppo lent the multi-millionaire student money after his meager allowance ran out. ',He always paid his debts," Cacioppo reported. "Many other students as rich as he was, would never pay back."

As a women's hair stylist, Cacioppo claimed origination of the "shingle bob," a popular style in the 20's, and women traveled from Boston and Montreal to have him style their hair.

Cacioppo was a member of the Rotary Club in Hanover and the Odd Fellows, Grange, Modern Woodsmens' Association and St. Lucy's Church.

He is survived by his wife, Ethel; two daughters, Mrs. Frances A. Bannon of Buffalo, N.Y., and Mrs. Ethel P. Carter of San Lorenzo; four grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Burial was in Hanover, N.H.
